Version 2.40

- Release to support firmware that accompanied component changes and to fix the following issues in July 2022

1. If used as an audio interface when in Multitrack mode with DAW Control On while connected to a computer (Windows/Mac), launching the Guitar Lab app would cause the R20 to become inoperable.
2. Switching between the Track View Screen and Level Meter View Screen during recording would cause sound to be recorded momentarily without the Compressor/Limiter/Noise Gate being applied.
3. Pressing the REC key when the Project Name setting screen, which is in the New Project Details, was open would cause proper key operation and sound input to stop being possible.
4. Other minor issues were also fixed.
